

SOCIETY

THE PAST week has continued dull and dreary in the social world, and but for the large event of Wednesday evening and a few luncheons for special guests there would be little to record in the realm of amusement. The Daily dance of Wednesday, given for Miss Edna Donnellan, was a very brilliant event and was enjoyed by a very great number of the society people of the city. It was elaborately arranged and beautifully carried out. The card party Thursday, for Miss Fox, at the Gray home was another enjoyable affair, the luncheon given yesterday by Miss Read for Miss Donnellan closing the events of the week. There were besides a few evening card parties and of the bride and groom. The pretty home was beautifully decorated with sweet peas, white carnations and sun-lax, and the archway was a mass of green ferns. The bride wore a pretty gray traveling gown with hat to match. After the reception the happy couple left for a short trip north, greeted with best wishes from their friends.

A score or more of Salt Lake's young people received invitations to attend the lawn party given on Wednesday evening by the Misses Eitel and Lurilla Stewart at their home in Kaysville. At the Kaysville station the Salt Lake crowd were met with pleasing informality by the young hostesses, and a big hayrack, covered with a little fresh mown alfalfa, by which they were conveyed to the Stewart home, where a supper-banquet awaited the party. Later in the evening they were joined by about a hundred other guests from Kaysville neighborhood. The evening was enjoyably spent in outdoor dancing and indoor games, in the cozy corners, about the punch bowl and around the refreshment tables. The parlors of the large home were decorated with flowers, ferns and vines, and the spacious lawns were hung overhead with Japanese lanterns. After the other guests had made a late departure, the Misses Stewart gave a "sleeping party" to the young ladies from Salt Lake, and it was of the proverbial sort which is characterized rather by the absence of sleep, accompanied by a reversion to girlhood pranks, and followed the next day by a "sleepy party." Thursday morning the city guests all had breakfast at the Stewart home and then returned to Salt Lake on an early train. Among them were the Misses Margaret Sumner, Mary, Ivy and Ruby Young, Louis Moyle, Lucile McClellan, Jessie Christensen, Genevieve and Hazel Love and Cleo Burns, and Messrs.

The Misses Beattie, Dotgall, Edna Barker, Afton Kimball, Myrtle Banks, Annie Davidson, and the Messrs. Left Margrett, Adrian Pembroke, Lawrence Beck, Walter Pike and Billie Ketting composed the party.

The wedding of Miss Esther Miller and Earl L. Wilson was solemnized by Rev. Josiah McClain of the Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride. After the ceremony a supper was served to the relatives and a few intimate friends of the happy couple. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will be at home to their friends at 348 Grand View avenue.
